

The Oath

I, Radhesh Joshi , solemnly and with all my heart, commit myself to achieving my dream of becoming a successful business man. I will work rigorously and hard to achieve my goal.

If I fall, I will learn from my mistakes. If my plan fails, I will rework it. I will not hesitate to admit when I have been lazy or wrong.

I will be truthfully honest with myself about the quality of my designs. I will not fear my competitors but invite them to do their best, as they will push me to do even better. I will not quit until I build a successful business or achieve my goals.

I am the maker of my destiny, and I will choose the best path. I will separate my personal relationships from my business. “I will do it.”
